

Make your own

CHARLIE McGREW horse

- 1 Colour and decorate this lovely drawing of a horse
- 2 Stick this sheet of paper to some thick cardboard using glue or tape
- 3 Cut the horse out using the blue dotted lines as a guide (be careful with the scissors, and ask an adult for help if you need it)
- 4 Using tape, attach a handle to the back of your horse – a ruler or lolly stick will work!
- 5 Take your pet horse with you everywhere you go

How to MAKE YOUR OWN...

CHARLIE MCGREW horse

PRINTER-FREE OPTION!

A piece of cardboard, such as a cereal
box, is perfect to draw on!

DRAW WITH ROB.

1 Start by drawing a circle, with two lines going up, as I have here. This is going to be your horse's body.

2 Follow the line on the left up and round, then add two lines and a smaller circle for the forehead, nose and muzzle!

3 Finish off the head with another curved line, as shown. Now it's time to add some legs and feet! Draw four straight lines with little quarter-circles at the bottom.

4 Next, add a lovely long, swishy tail. It's actually an S shape with pointy ends.

5 Let's add ears! Draw two upside-down tear shapes on top of the head. Then draw two smaller ones inside the bigger ones.

6 Now, draw four lines on the left side of the horse's neck, for its mane. Then add three more lines between the ears.

7 Add a pair of eyes by drawing two circles with a horizontal line all the way across, then add two small dots in the middle. Pop two lines above these for the eyebrows! Remember, eyebrows help show emotion.

8 Finally, add the lower jaw, teeth and nostrils, as I have done here. Et voilà! Your pet horse is complete! Ask an adult to help you cut it out and stick it to a ruler, or similar, to take with you!
